It is time for the Government to stop hounding Microsoft. The vast amount of monetary resources taken from the U.S. taxpayers can be better utilized elsewhere. The Federal Govt. does not have a Constitutional duty or right to meddle in the free market and to do so hurts the business market which we consumers have to ultimately pay for on top of paying for prosecution. If Netscape can't manage itself for profit than it either needs to change its strategy or leave the browser market and above all, it needs to quit whinning and blaming others for its incompetence.
